Introduction
Yuval Horn  Horn & Co, Tel Aviv

Topic one

Off-label uses of medicines
In the wake of an increasing amount of off-label uses and recommendations, the following paramount questions arise: Can the importance of a marketing authorisation be disregarded, mostly for cost-related issues? Is off-label a relevant comparator from the pricing and reimbursement perspective? Can a product used off-label be considered as a competitor for purposes of market definition? What other implications are there from the regulatory, commercial and antitrust angle?

Co-Moderators
Natalia Castro  Raisbeck & Castro, Bogotá
Torrey Cope  Sidley Austin, Washington DC
Helen Waxberg  Mannheimer Swartling, Stockholm

Topic two

Robotic surgery
A developing number of healthcare centres and practitioners are digitalising their day-to-day practices and rebuilding the patient pathway around more and more remote medical care. Where are we standing today from a legal perspective?

Topic three

Developing a global patent strategy for a med device start up
This round table will address how to balance protection and cost with a view toward blocking competitors in relevant markets and potential patent litigation. Discussion may address searching (how much and when), filing of provisional applications first in the US or elsewhere, where to file national applications, differences in patent eligibility requirements between countries, preparing for or conducting IP diligence for acquisition, specific patent office programs to expedite and improve examination, freedom-to-operate studies and competitor monitoring, and selection of counsel.

Co-Moderators
Anna Valborg Guðmundsdóttir  Óssur, Reykjavik
Tatjana Latinovic  Óssur, Reykjavik
Sabing Lee  Knobbe Martens, Irvine, California

Topic four

Regulations affecting new and alternatives treatments for cancer
This table will address current and future regulations in different countries for new cancer treatments, with special attention to the world’s first genetically engineered immune therapy regarding the T-cell treatment.

Co-Moderators
Joaquin Núñez  Hoet Pelaez Castillo & Duque (HPCD), Caracas
Corey Salsberg  Novartis, Washington DC

Friday Continued

Topic five

Parallel trade: genuine vs artificial parallel trade

Genuine parallel trade is the natural consequence of price differentials in the relevant markets, provided that they arise from the market operators’ freedom to set prices. Artificial parallel trade is a form of arbitrage that derives from the price differences provoked by governmental coercive price controlling. What are the legitimate pricing and supply schemes that could be put in place by pharma companies in order to avoid undesirable flows of products from low-price countries into high-price countries?

Co-Moderators

Eduardo Hallak Licks Attorneys, São Paulo
Stephanie Pautke Commeo, Frankfurt; Committee Liaison Officer, IBA Healthcare and Life Sciences Law Committee
Teresa Paz-Ares Uria Menéndez, Madrid; Vice Chair, Corporate Information Governance Subcommittee, IBA Technology Law Committee

Topic six

Gene editing and CRISPR Cas9

Gene-editing technologies, such as CRISPR-Cas9, are all the rage. But what are they? What are the potential benefits and risks? How are these technologies being regulated and commercialised? What are the patent issues? We will discuss these questions and more.

Co-Moderators

Kevin M Esvelt MIT Media Lab, Cambridge, Massachusetts
Alexander Spiegler Arent Fox, Washington DC

Topic seven

International treaties and their impact on the Life Sciences industry

Although there are some voices against, including some leaders of the highest industrialised countries in the world, globalisation in all aspects of trade and commerce is now a non-stopable trend. Globalisation is materialised in new and innovative manners to connect and make business across the borders but also in bilateral and multilateral free trade agreements. Some examples are taking place around the world such as the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership (CPTPP) signed in Chile in March 2018, where 11 countries agreed in the most ambitious free trade agreement ever signed. There are other examples around the world of renegotiations of free trade agreements which surely will impact the Life Sciences industry from the business and legal frame standpoints, situation which will be discussed taking advantage of the various jurisdictions represented in this conference.

Co-Moderators

Sajai Singh J Sagar Associates, Bengaluru; Vice Chair, IBA Technology Law Committee
Yuri Vázquez Krasowsky Director of Intellectual Property, the Mexican Association of Pharmaceutical Research Industries (AMIF), Mexico City

Topic eight

Reproductive issues and the law

This table will discuss how new reproductive technologies are being treated in the law in both Europe and the US, as well as some recent decisions at the EPO/USPTO. Participants will discuss what is done in their country and what do they feel is the right approach.

Co-Moderators

Lorenza Ferrari Hofer Pestalozzi Attorneys at Law, Zurich
Jason Jardine Knobbe Martens, San Diego, California; Vice Chair Emerging Intellectual Property Rights Subcommittee, IBA Intellectual Property & Entertainment Law Committee

Topic nine

Innovation hub

Can collaboration and an open innovation atmosphere be the way to go for Life Science companies to gain competitive advantages? During recent years we have seen more and more interaction between emerging biotech/medtech companies, academic groups and big pharma in different innovation hubs’ set-ups. But, what are the key issues for a win-win set up of an innovation hub and what’s up and coming on the innovation hub sky? What are the challenges, and can these challenges be turned into something positive for all parties?

Co-Moderators

Dr Magnus Björsne AstraZeneca, BioVentureHub, Gothenburg
Caroline Ygge Morrislaw, Gothenburg; Vice Chair, Disputes and Rights Subcommittee, IBA Technology Law Committee

Topic ten

Reverse mergers of Life Sciences companies

The IPO market for Life Sciences companies in recent years has been slow. In order to facilitate financing such companies, many have opted to reverse merge into publicly traded shells. Such transactions enable early stage companies which would have otherwise not been able to file a prospectus, to become publicly traded entities and attract the public and other, non-venture capital related, investors. The round table will enable the participants to discuss the key issues and lessons learned in structuring, evaluating and negotiating reverse mergers, and the reality of becoming a publicly traded company at an early stage.
Health data privacy: How the GDPR will impact EU and US health care Providers?

While it reinforces or creates new individual rights, the GDPR obliges public or private actors to take far reaching technical and organisational data protection measures to become compliant following a new self-accountability approach. Beyond the rules now shared by a majority of players at an international level, a series of topics have been left for EU member States to possibly add conditions and limitations to the GDPR. Health data and scientific research are part of this subsidiary mechanism. Let’s focus on the main features of the GDPR on the processing of health data and how it is now implemented in main economic places around the world.

Digital health – hospital of the future

The use and adoption of telemedicine in various forms is becoming common. Hospitals of the future will depend on increased computer power and use of digital means in order to provide and monitor the caregiving process. The panel will bring together experts in the legal analysis of telemedicine in order to take a close look at the legal matters that are currently being dealt with by practitioners and medical institutions.

Biosimilars

- Choreographing US and European biosimilar dances
- New developments on patenting
- Similarity and interchangeability, Biosimilars
- Bio-betters and Bio-worse

What is the fuss all about and why should we care?

Marijuana technology for medical purposes

As the research of therapeutic effects of marijuana moves forward, the list of the countries that have legalised marijuana as an ingredient for formulations to be authorised keeps growing. On the other hand, there are those countries where the prohibition is very strict and the possibility to have marijuana legalised for medical uses seems very far; however, does such prohibition limit a human right to health?

0830 – 0940 First concurrent sessions

IP litigation
This panel will discuss recent patent litigation trends affecting biotech and pharma industries worldwide. We will discuss recent changes in the patent litigation landscape in different jurisdictions, and how those changes specifically affect the pharmaceutical and biotech industries. How have post-grant patent office proceedings affected patent litigation in various jurisdictions? Have recent changes in patent (case-)law led to increased or reduced harmonisation? How do patent eligibility standards in various jurisdictions affect patenting in the diagnostic, personalised medicine, and health technology fields?

Biopharmaceutical market: collaboration vs M&A
Biotech deal activity exploded with French drugmaker Sanofi and US based Celgene spending a combined total of more than $20bn to add new products for hemophilia and cancer to their medicine cabinets. What are the market conditions for making these types of deals happen? Or should we expect more?

On the other hand collaborations have also been increasingly popular, especially in oncology and immunotherapy. How is a collaboration different from an outright purchase or license? This panel will discuss the pros and cons that have led to this multi billion dollar market.

Moderator
Emmanuelle Trombe - McDermott Will & Emery, Paris

Panellists
Dr Magnus Björsne - AstraZeneca, BioVentureHub, Gothenburg

Unauthorised Accommodation Agents
It has been brought to our attention that there are multiple companies contacting past attendees, claiming to represent the IBA, offering ‘assistance’ with registration and hotel bookings. They are operating by cold-calling and spamming companies whose names have appeared on previous List of Participants, Programmes and Sponsorship recognition. The only Accommodation Agent the IBA works with is Judy Lane ICS. Judy Lane ICS do not contact delegates on behalf of the IBA without delegates making initial contact. Please ignore any communication that does not come directly from the IBA or Judy Lane ICS.

Disabled access
The InterContinental Boston is wheelchair accessible. Please notify us if you require special assistance.

Continuing Professional Development/Continuing Legal Education
*The number of CPD/CLE hours available may vary depending on the rules applied by the members’ bar association/law society on time recording criteria.

For conference delegates from jurisdictions where CPD/CLE is mandatory, the IBA will provide a Certificate of Attendance for the conference. Subject to CPD/CLE requirements, this can be used by conference delegates to obtain the relevant number of hours’ accreditation.

A CPD/CLE Certificate of Attendance is available to conference delegates on request. Please ask at the IBA conference registration desk for information on how to obtain the certificate.

The organisers may at any time, with or without giving notice, in their absolute discretion and without giving any reason, cancel or postpone the conference, change its venue or any of the other published particulars, or withdraw any invitation to attend. In any case, neither the organisers nor any of their officers, employees, agents, members or representatives shall be liable for any loss, liability, damage or expense suffered or incurred by any person, nor will they return any money paid to them in connection with the conference unless they are satisfied not only that the money in question remains under their control but also that the person who paid it has been unfairly prejudiced (as to which, decision shall be in their sole and unfettered discretion and, when announced, final and conclusive).
The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world’s leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to-date information, enabling them to better represent their clients’ interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

Intellectual Property and Entertainment Law Committee overview
The main areas are patents, trade marks, copyright, trade secrets and unfair competition. Allied to these are a number of related areas including data protection, database protection, privacy, design rights, domain names and the like.

In the entertainment law area the key focus is on the creation, provision and delivery of content in relation to print, films, broadcasts, cable programmes, musical works and sound recordings. There is also involvement with media law including defamation and privacy and authors’ rights in a more general sense.

Closely Held and Growing Business Enterprises Committee overview
The mission of the Closely Held and Growing Business Enterprises Committee is to address issues of particular interest to startups, owner-managed, closely held and family businesses and their legal advisors, and to organisations with ambitions for growth.

Corporate and Social Responsibility Committee overview
The IBA Corporate Social Responsibility Committee has as its mission:
• To promote the development of legal skills required to advise on subjects of corporate social responsibility, sustainable development and social performance, and to facilitate education and dialogue among lawyers who practice in this emerging area of the law;
• To support the legal profession in developing CSR strategies for their internal organisation and their engagement in communities and the world; and
• To champion the improved understanding and practical implementation of CSR principles in business, government and civil society.

Healthcare and Life Sciences Law Committee overview
The Healthcare and Life Sciences Law Committee is rooted in legal issues arising within healthcare sectors throughout the world as well as affiliated interest areas within the Life Sciences arena. In this regard, it is concerned with those fields of science that involve the scientific study of living organisms, with a special focus on all aspects of healthcare law, including such areas as medicine law, intellectual property, biotech, bioethics, regulatory issues and scientific developments, on a worldwide basis.

Technology Law Committee overview
The Technology Law Committee of the International Bar Association brings together lawyers practising aspects of the law particularly relevant to modern technologies. They have in common that they deal with developing bodies of law coming to grips with the new questions posed by new technologies. The mandate of the Technology Law Committee is broad and includes virtually any kind of technology.

North American Regional Forum overview
The IBA is the global voice of the legal profession. It offers an international perspective on the practice of law, as well as a forum for the exchange of expertise, ideas and contacts amongst the leading legal practitioners in the world’s major centres of finance, trade, investment and commerce. Through its thousands of members worldwide, it offers access to specialists of the highest calibre from over 100 countries around the world, many of whom meet on a regular basis at an annual conference and many regional conferences throughout the year. The membership and support of more than 200 bar associations from around the world, and the IBA’s important work to promote the rule of law and human rights, gives it a uniquely authoritative global voice in legal affairs and ensures that the work of its many committees has a real and lasting impact.

Latin American Regional Forum overview
The Latin American Forum covers all countries in Latin America as well as Mexico, Puerto Rico and Spanish-speaking areas of the Caribbean. The LAF provides a focus for all activities in the region. The group organises sessions at IBA Conferences and in particular has been instrumental in ensuring that a Latin American perspective is addressed during relevant special sessions. The LAF is closely affiliated with the North American Forum as the regions are geographically proximate and share many issues.
