

The European Union's Normative Power in Planetary Politics

Type: Lecture

Audience: Open to the Public

Speaker:

Prof. Ian James Manner \(http://politicalscience.ku.dk/staff/academic_staff/?pure=en/persons/323164\)

Building: Nador u. 9, Monument Building

Room: Popper

Add to Calendar

Date: Tuesday, November 28, 2017 - 3:00pm

The CEU Center for European Neighborhood Studies (CENS)

and the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES) in Budapest

cordially invite you to the lecture

“THE EUROPEAN UNION'S NORMATIVE POWER IN PLANETARY POLITICS”

by Prof. Ian James Manners, University of Copenhagen

CHANGE OF VENUE: Monument Building, Nador 9, Popper room!

Ian Manners works at the nexus of critical social theory and the study of the European Union in global politics. His current research interest looks at the EU and global governance at the intersections of global economy, society, environment, conflict and politics. In global economics he focuses on the promotion of freedom and social solidarity. In global society he focuses on the promotion of human rights and equality. In global environment he focuses on the promotion of sustainable development and addressing global warming. In global conflict he focuses on the promotion of sustainable peace and the rule of law. In global politics he focuses on the promotion of democracy and good governance.

The event is followed by a reception!

R.S.V.P. to András SZALAI at szalaia@ceu.edu (<mailto:szalaia@ceu.edu>)

